

GREEN BAY

JULY 2007

SPECIAL ISSUE!

you
MAGAZINE

LOCAL WOMEN
TO KNOW

ALSO INSIDE
Top 10 Sizzling Summer
Dresses What Women
Want – and How to Get It
Shopping Door County
The Hottest Summer CDs
Caught You Looking Good

you spotlight

> Maria Milano

Co-owner, Parallel 44 winery

"I'm as happy as I've ever been right now," says Maria Milano, co-owner of Parallel 44, the recently opened Kewaunee winery she owns with her husband, attorney Steve Johnson. A former attorney and a wealth management advisor for M & I Bank, Milano encourages others to find and follow their passions.

Milano, who laughingly places her age at "eternally 29," is also busy as a member of Leadership Green Bay and the Green Bay Chamber of Commerce and Redevelopment Authority.

Milano finds inspiration from her grandmother, Fortunata, who, despite a hard life, lived to be 103. Milano's favorite place to be is in her winery where it's beautiful and peaceful, but her greatest joys are her husband and three children.

> Susan Finco

Founder, Leonard & Finco PR

In her work in public relations, Susan Finco may have to play "spin doctor," but having an abundance of "hard work, good luck and the grace of God" are what keep her grounded.

Before founding Leonard & Finco Public Relations in 1992, Finco was an award-winning broadcast journalist. Hailing from suburban Milwaukee, Finco followed work to Green Bay and Philadelphia before deciding to return to Green Bay.

Finco serves on several Boards of Directors including the Green Bay Packers, UW-Green Bay, Citizens Bank Wisconsin, Bellin Health Systems, Greater Green Bay Community Foundation and St. Norbert College Music Theatre.

As an Italian, Finco admits, "Food plays a big part in my life," which is probably why her favorite hangouts are restaurants: Big Tomatoes, Los Banditos and Angelina.

